What Is A DPC Business Coach?

DPC professional coaches assist individuals and organizations with coaching needs. DPC coaches have impressive overall industry experience in leadership, business, coaching, practical knowledge and teaching, and a long-term commitment to coaching clientele to high levels of achievement.

A DPC Business Coach is your partner in achieving personal and small business goals, your trainer in communication and life skills, your sounding board when making choices, your motivator when strong actions are called for, your support when you take a hit, your mentor when in personal development, your co-designer when developing and extraordinary project, your beacon during stormy times. Your wake-up call if you don't hear your own, and, most importantly, your partner in helping you live the life you know you're ready for, professionally and personally.

A business Coach is an expert in various areas of small business, but, most importantly, is in the business of small business and the business process. Although coached may have backgrounds in various business fields, a good Business Coach is a mentor in business development.

In practice, a coach takes time to understand a client's business and provides systematic development strategies to help them reach their goals.

DPC coaches hold the CPBC (Certified Professional Business Coach) designation through the PBCA (Professional Business Coaches Alliance) established in 2005.
